A SIMPLE JANUARY INSURANCE CHECKUP

Happy New Year from VanMeveren Law Group!

The start of a new year is a great time to take a quick look at your auto insurance coverage. Many people assume they're fully protected—only to discover gaps after an accident happens.

As part of a simple annual checkup, consider:

- Whether your liability limits are high enough to cover real-world medical costs

- If you have uninsured or underinsured motorist coverage, which can be critical if the at-fault driver doesn't have enough insurance
- Whether medical payments (MedPay) coverage could help with immediate out-of-pocket expenses
- If you understand your deductibles and policy limits

If your coverage feels confusing or you're not sure how it would actually work after a crash, it's worth revisiting now—before you need it.

If you've been injured in an accident or have questions about how your insurance coverage applies, VanMeveren Law Group is here to help clarify your options. We regularly walk clients through complex insurance issues so they can focus on recovery—not paperwork or uncertainty.

A short conversation can make a big difference. We're always happy to answer
